

When a parent can no longer live alone safely, it is a difficult time for their family. Our family was comforted knowing that my mother had Whispering Knoll as an option. As her Alzheimer's Disease progressed she needed a more structured and safe environment.

She was a resident in the assisted living apartments for 4 years and the memory unit for her final two years. The staff was caring and very professional. I would recommend Whispering Knoll to anyone desiring an assisted living facility for themselves or a family member.

You have my permission to use this for advertising, etc.
Please do not use my name.
Thanks,