Dear Bernice:

I am happy to share our experience with Whispering Knoll.

Having my father at an Assisted Living Facility was the furthest thing from our minds as he lived alone, drove, and was self-sufficient. That all changed the day my father had a stroke. He was hospitalized and although the only permanent physical damage was some vision loss my sister, brother and I knew that he could not return to his home alone.

We visited Whispering Knoll and found the facility to be outstanding. Dad has his own efficiency apartment, which lets him have his privacy when he wants it, but offers so much in the way of socialization.

Dad goes to the dining room for his meals and enjoys his time in the Bistro where he sits with other residents and reads the paper or just chats while enjoying a light snack. When the weather is warm he enjoys sitting out front in the comfortable chairs and socializing.

The entertainment that comes into Whispering Knoll gives the residents something to look forward to, as well as the many outings.

My father adjusted to the lifestyle change very well because Whispering Knoll treats the residents with respect. Everyone is pleasant and is concerned for their well-being. The 24 hour nurse on duty gives the families peace of mind that if a medical issue arises it can be addressed immediately.

I thank you for taking such good care of my dad.

With many thanks,

Pat Peters
